RESOURCES

The following is a sampling of available resources. Severn Run EPC Umbrella specifically endorses none of these. Curriculum, teaching methods and activities should be based on well-researched decisions. Explore and draw from the most excellent sources you find. Do not hesitate to make changes if a particular book, program or activity if it fails to be the tool you need.

One of the most useful resources available is other home schoolers. Ask questions and opinions, look at their materials, programs and methods before deciding on your own. Each spring, several local organizations conduct curriculum fairs and used book sales; these offer opportunities to look at items before ordering them and often to buy at reduced prices. Another worthy resource is your county library; texts do not have to be “school” books to be useful, and our local libraries are easily available, well supplied and willing to help. If you have access to the Internet, it is a wonderful way to search for home schooling resources, curriculum and anything else you may need.

CURRICULUM SOURCES

The following offer either full or supplemental curriculum.
There are so many out there, but here are a few.
